The Eagles improve to 22-2 on the season

WRESTLING

METRO-EAST SPLITS TRIANGULAR MEET, DEFEATING HILLSBORO, LOSING TO EAWR: The Metro-East Lutheran wrestling team is continuing to make school history, and split a triangular meet to raise its record to 10-7 on the year.

The Knights needed a win in the 285-pound match by Timmy Lott against Hillsboro, and got it with an 8-0 win that gave the Knights its first-ever victory over the Hilltoppers 35-32.

Pins from Joe Bowers at 113 pounds and Jake Fiudo at 120 gave Metro-East an early 12-6 lead against Hillsboro, then a 12-2 win by Elijah Schlessinger at 126 pounds upped the advantage to 16-6. Caiden Downs scored a pin at 138 pounds, and Grayson Wyatt won his 145 pound bout 12-2 after a Hilltopper pin to make it 25-10, but two forfeit win for Hillsboro cut the lead to 25-22.

Chad Grey then won by fall to put the Knights ahead 31-22, but another forfeit win for the Hilltoppers and a win at 220 pounds put Hillsboro up 32-31, setting up Lott's heroics in the final match.

In the other meet, Metro-East lost to East Alton-Wood River 51-24, with both Schlessinger and Lott recording pins, Skylar Swan-Henson winning by forfeit and Jakob Schroeder winning by injury default for the only Knights' points against the Oilers.

Metro-East will honor Lott on Senior Night next Thursday, Jan. 30, when it hosts a triangular meet against Lutheran St. Charles and Carlyle.
